SDG2: ZERO HUNGER

The World Islamic Sciences and Education University provide sustainable food choices for all on campus, including vegetarian and vegan and also provide healthy and affordable food choices for all. One of the activities practiced by the university annually is the tables of the Most Merciful, which provides tables of food to the poor during the blessed month of Ramadan.

This is in addition to the commitment to the half annual activity (i.e., the charitable dish), the proceeds of which are returned to the poor student's fund sponsored by a responsible and authorised body.

The World Islamic Sciences and Education University as a body provides interventions to prevent or alleviate hunger among students and staff by making packages of food items or meals offered for free. As on the social level the culture of food sharing is very common in the university whether in the activity of just as an individual initiative.
